HAPPY PAINTING!
YOUR CUSTOMIZED
COLOR REPORT IS READY!

Hello Jackie. Thank you for reaching out for a colour consultation on your additional spaces.

I hope you find the following colour report helpful. Please note the paint brand name (Benjamin Moore) and the corresponding color name and number on the swatches for easy reference.

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to send me an email. Also, when you are finished with your space I would love feedback on the process so I can continue improving it for future clients.

KITCHEN

For the first option I wanted to give your kitchen walls a bit of color. Benjamin Moore Early Morning Mist is a soft neutral with a slight green/gray undertone. It will compliment the wood tones of the cabinets while still pairing well with the counters and backsplash.

LIVING ROOM

When painting adjoining spaces, color flow from one room to the other needs to be considered. For the living room I chose Benjamin Moore Alaskan Husky. This light gray will not only compliment the existing furniture in the space but also transition nicely to the kitchen.

KITCHEN

For the second option, I chose a scheme of warm neutrals.

This gives you a lot of room for decorating. I have included some ideas on the following pages.

In the kitchen, Benjamin Moore Classic Gray is a warm grey/beige that will give you an airy look.

LIVING ROOM

For the living room, I chose Benjamin Moore Collingwood, a little darker than the kitchen color but along the same tone, to pair with the blue couch, beige chair and rug.

Using a darker shade in the living room will help it feel cozy and the neutral tone will leave you with plenty of room for accessories.

INSPIRATION

To move the television from in front of the window, which can make it a little awkward should you wish to open it, I would suggest looking for a corner TV stand like these.

Neutral walls in the kitchen leave you with a lot of room for accessorizing. Hang a collection of cutting boards (you can use your own or look around antique/thrift stores), a collection of decorative plates and other cookware.

To help organize the entry in the basement or by the front door, you can easily set up a bench, hooks for hanging bags, jackets and keys. Add baskets for storage.

INSPIRATION

With neutral walls, give your space visual interest with a collection of your favorite art and photos. A gallery wall is a great way to fill the space.
